INTERNATIONAL BUYERS PLEASE READ BELOW...way below

A rare example of a rare guitar...special inlay at the 19th fret commemorating the 100th guitar in rosewood board instead of the standard ebony.

Missing one screw from the backplate, otherwise all there and 100% original(pretty sure on the
Has been played but well taken care of with only a handful of dings here and there. Top of the has 1 ding, headstock has some small edge wear and the back has a decent amount of wear i worming though. Most of the wear is found around the sides. Neck finish is worn through in so maple underneath and only has one ding, which is nearly unnoticeable unless you're looking f are in fantastic shape...teeney tiny frets they are! Not a collectors piece to hang on the wall, b was your intended purpose. Seems to have some sweat/surface build up that should be easy you use. Or...just play the damned thing! NO BREAKS CRACKS OR REPAIRS. Setup great a If you're a serious buyer, I'm sure I need not explain what this does or how it does it. Basically way but.... a mono signal split to stereo controlled via 3 way toggle(left/stereo/right) with phase mounted) master volume and a 3 way rotary tone control Not sure what the output on these r meaned, master volume and a 3 way rotary tone control. Not sure what the output on these is bark and growl! Wide ranging tonal control and just sounds fantastic in stereo. I wouldn't offer a damned tiny frets. I need some meat to grab hold of! So, if it doesn't sell, it won't break my head.

THE ISSUES.....a few slightly scratchy pots, nothing some vigorous knob twisting, comp Seems to be an issue splitting the bridge pickup, but only when the 3 way is in the bridge position selector in position 3(which is split coil by default), so the pickup works but likely a wiring out of phase when in the bridge position nearly kills the signal...very low output. Again, likely a Check all of the pics for a good idea of the condition. Includes a vintage Gibson style bass case long.

BODY

Solid Mahogany with carved top. Acoustic cavity construction with solid centre to support neck, bridge and string bar mounting.

NECK

Canadian White Maple fitted with double thrust truss rod, resin welded into the cavity. Ebony fingerboard with 24 super fast frets and enclosed machine heads. Both body and neck are electronically treated, stress released and moisture extracted before resin seal. 20 separate operations are carried out to give maximum tone, frequency range, comfortable handling and straight good looks.

STEREO

Both of the stereo inputs can be used in a single channel or amp. The panning switch enables each channel or amp to operate separately. This means each channel can be set for entirely different effects or tone positions. And you can from one channel to two.

PICKUPS

Can be used either as single ( split ) or double pole (humbuck ) - the split slightly thinner in sound to the humbuck. Controlled by three way tone selector.

TONE SELECTOR

In position one, the tone of the guitar is Bassboosted giving fullness. Ideal for mellow styles of music. However on this setting, be careful not to overload the signal amp by picking too hard. Heavier gauge strings are needed to use full body response. It's an ideal sound for blues. In position two, the selector gives the biting double pole rock sound. This is the centre sound of the instrument, so, with the amp preset to match the tone selection without altering the amp. In position one and two, the guitar may be used with the pickup pole switches set on either side. For quick changes, the tone selector in position three converts the whole guitar to single pole. The pickup switch controls each pickup separately or together.

PHASE SWITCH

Situated on the lower surround of the bridge pickup. When the guitar is set with both pickups operating, this switch gives a choice between more middle tone than the in.

Choose your method of USPS shipping via the shipping tab...Priority(many times the cheapest), Parcel Select(formally known as domestically in the USA. All items are properly packaged with bubble wrap, peanuts and paper. Tracking info will be available through generated email that you will receive from eBay. That tracking info can be sketchy at best sometimes and is completely out of my around time at the price of Priority.

ALL ITEMS SHIP WITHIN 1 BUSINESS DAY...OFTEN SAME DAY IF PURCHASED BEFORE 2PM ARIZONA

FULL REFUND on non-working and/or "not as described" items. NO REFUNDS on working and/or "as described" functioning item. "Not the sound I was looking for" or "Don't want it anymore" are not sufficient reasons for a return. All items are in working condition. Occasionally, a problem will arise that can be easily resolved by contacting me... bad/wrong power supply, dead problem should occur, contact me within the 14 day time frame mandated by eBay. The ONLY NEGATIVE FEEDBACK that arose 1 month after the buyer took delivery. 14 days is more than adequate, 30 is ridiculous and I will not be held responsible used electronics, so buy accordingly. I've sold well over 1,000 used pedals here on eBay and can count on one hand the number of problems, and I'd still have a finger left to give to the couple who fried the pedals with improper power supplies. If I do screw up and refunding you your original purchase price, shipping AND your return shipping. No reason my ignorance should cost you a dime. I'm sorry, therefore no shipping charges will be refunded. AREN'TCHA GLAD YOU READ ALL OF THIS

International Buyers – Please Note:

I WILL NOT claim a lower item value for customs purposes so...DON'T ASK!!!!!!

Import duties, taxes, and charges are not included in the item price or shipping cost. These charges are the buyer's responsibility office to determine what these additional costs will be prior to bidding or buying.

Shipping is obviously quite high for this with the case, around $650 the fond of shipping without. Any ideas on alternatives is greatly appreciated packaging and have shipped several without a case, but not sure I was one so...bid accordingly! Contact me with any questions, I'd love to see mates in Australia!
